Medicaid Legislation

Don't Wait! Prescription Paper Will Soon Be Required By Law

According to legislation signed by President Bush last summer, Medicaid prescriptions will only be reimbursable if they are written on tamper-resistant pads. The law is supposed to prevent illegally-obtained drugs by enforcing the use of tamper-resistant “scripts.” The Centers for Medicare & Medicaid Services has extended the implementation deadline date to April 1, 2008.

This law creates new demand and you should be prepared to capitalize on it. Prescription Paper (#04543) is the tamper-resistant and tamper-evident paper that so many customers are already selling to hospitals, pharmacists, and healthcare providers. And this item is already authorized for usage in most states. Priced competitively, this advanced security paper is designed to ensure authentication in order to prevent and deter prescription forgery.
